Building a Global Network of Nurses to Advance Health for All

4th Annual Conference

Call for Abstracts and Lightning Talks

October 23rd – 24th 2015, Boston, MA

Abstract Categories

Research
- Research relevant to global health program implementation or practitioner networking to improve global health

Practice Improvement Models
- Program development and/or implementation to improve health across the globe

Networking Models
- Successful practitioner networking or collaboration to improve global health

Back by Popular Demand! Lightning Talks
- Share an innovative networking idea or other exciting global health activity. These brief (5 minutes) talks are a great opportunity for first-time presenters. For more information, go to Lightning Talks.

How to Apply

- Abstract submission is now open. Submission deadline is August 14th, 2015. Acceptance notification will be made via email by September 1st, 2014.
- Abstracts for research reports or practice improvement/networking models: No longer than 350 words and include the headings indicated on the abstract form.
- Lightning talks: Submit a 100 word description of your idea on the abstract form. The purpose of a lightning talk is to make a salient point and explain it as quickly as possible. That’s it!
- To submit an abstract download the abstract form from the website, complete and email to globalnursingcaucus@gmail.com with “Abstract for GNC Conference 2015” in the subject line. The form is available at www.globalnursingcaucus.org

- Friday October 23rd, 1-5 pm: skill building workshops
- Saturday October 24th, 8a- 6p: conference.

Conference registration will begin on September 1st. For more info visit: www.globalnursingcaucus.org/conference

Sponsored in part by Global Health Department, BU School of Public Health; University of Massachusetts Boston; and GHDonline